Razputin Aquato and Lili Zanotto - the most adorable young couple Psilhouette has ever seen!

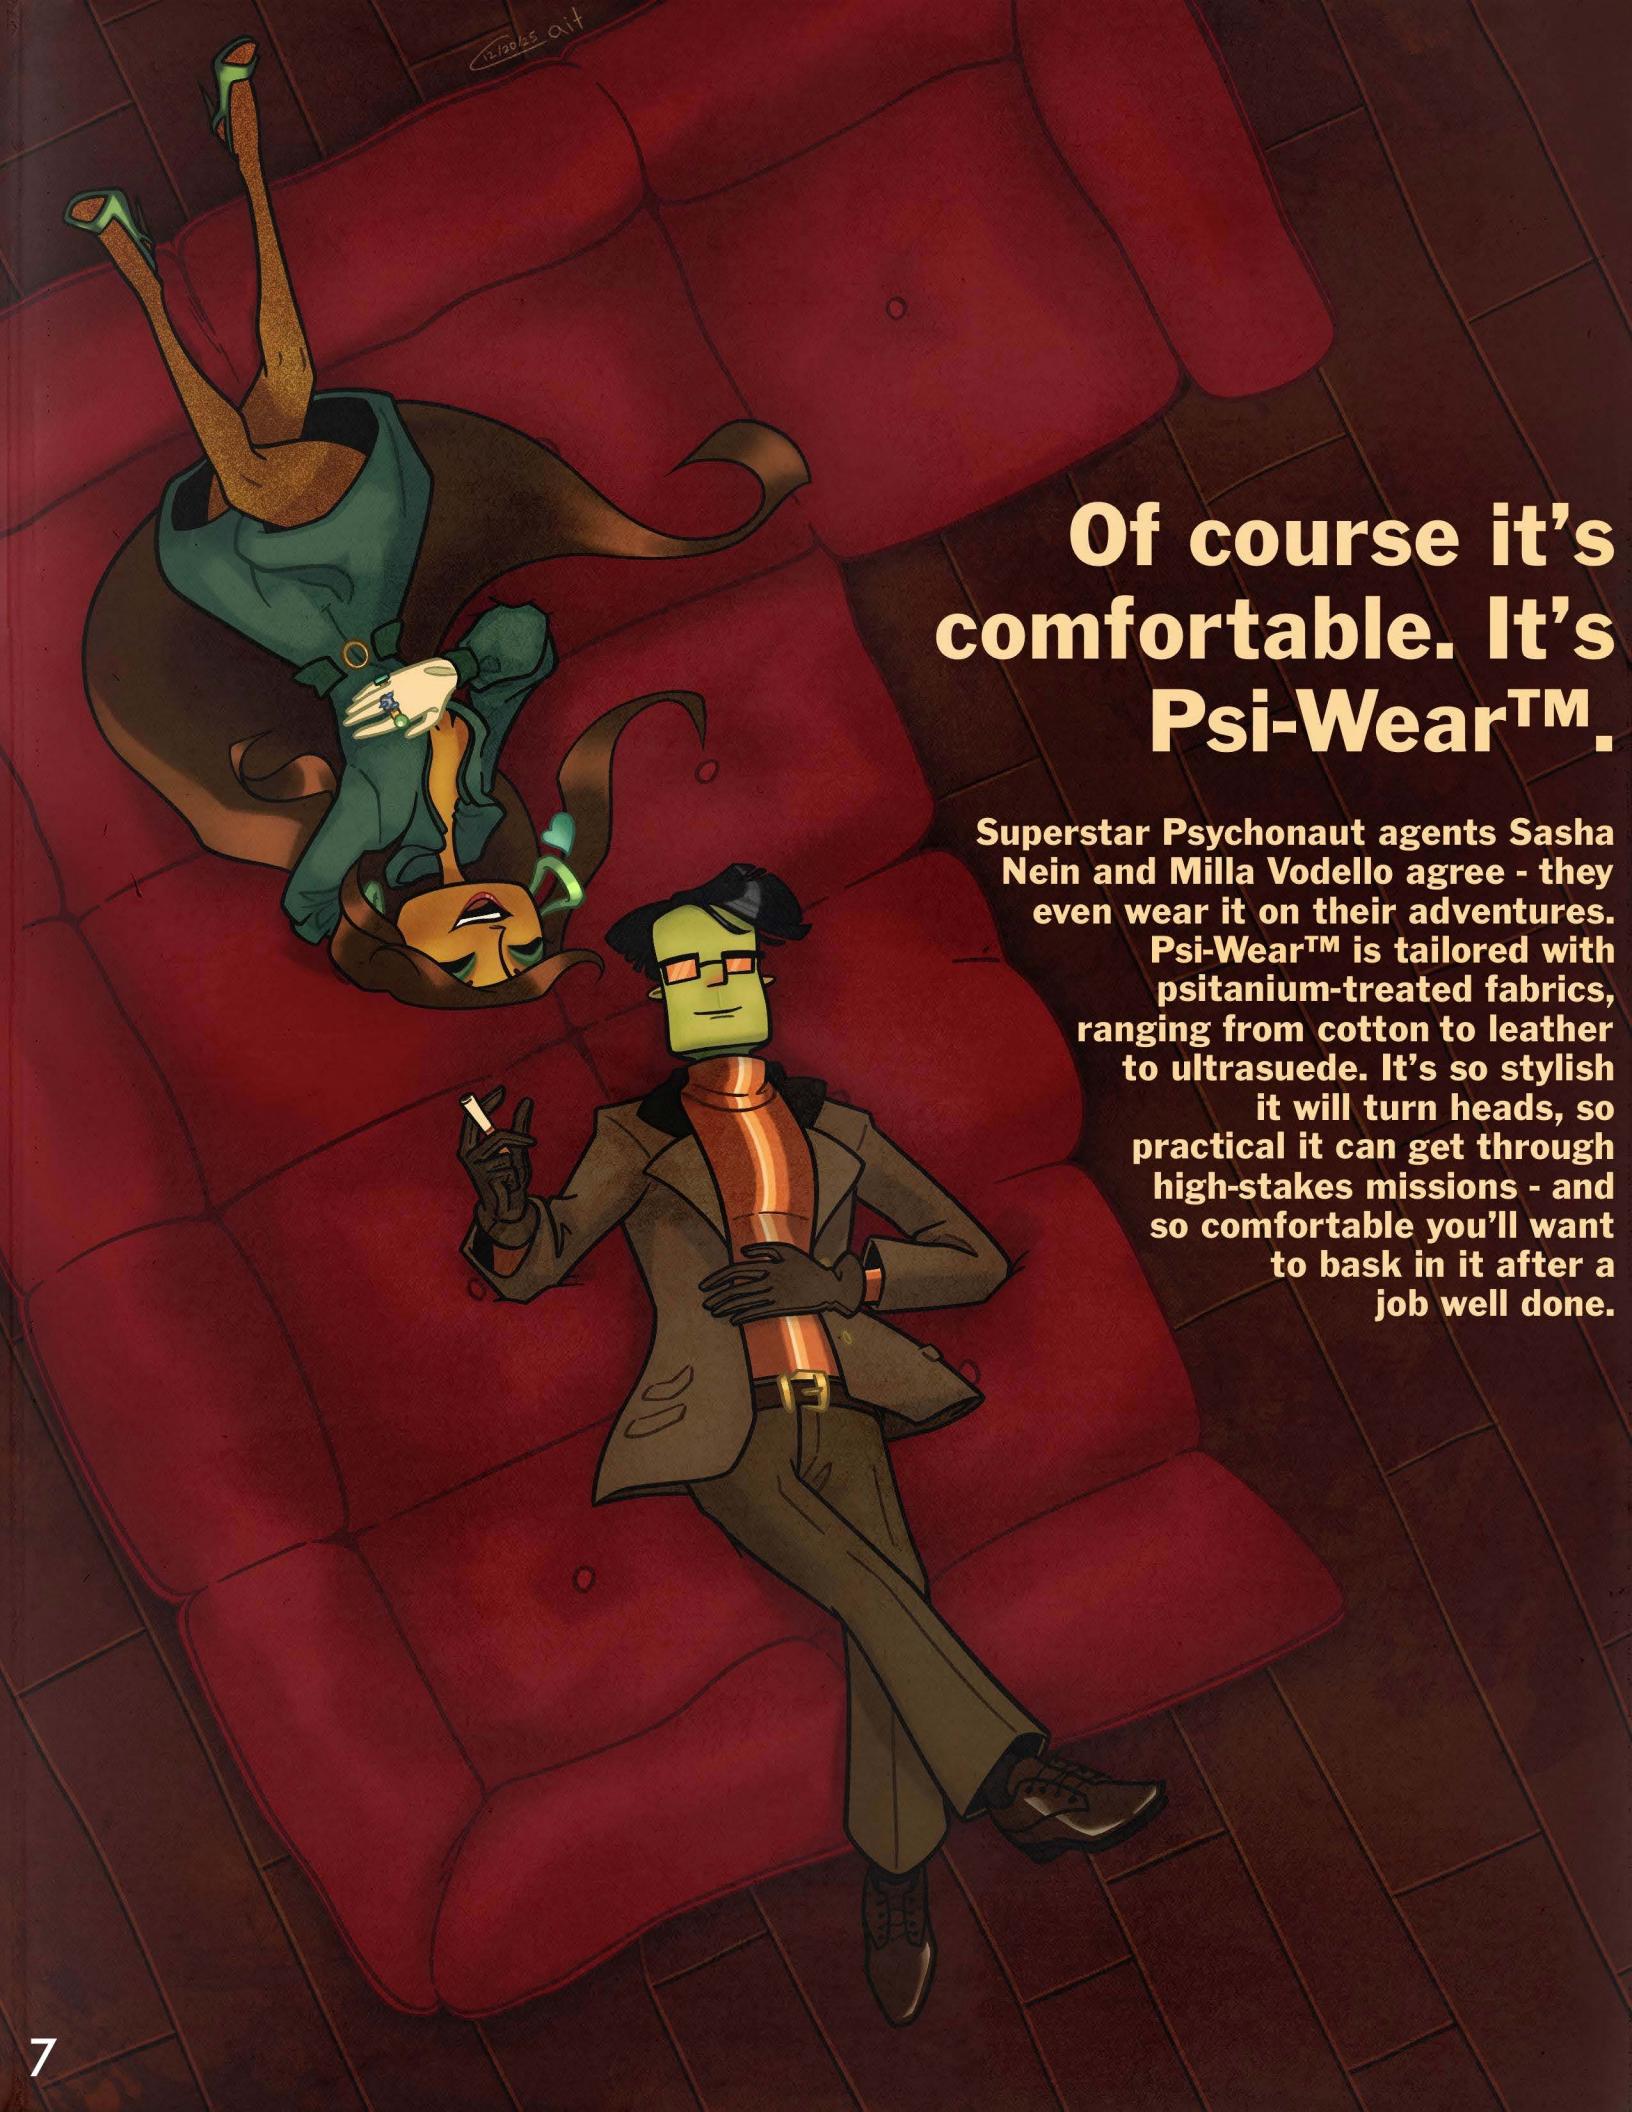

The hot-headed daughter of Truman Zanotto has never been easy to win over, yet the young girl fell head over heels for Junior Psychonaut Razputin instantly upon his unexpected arrival at Whispering Rock. After being together for almost a year, Lili insisted she bring Raz as her date to her school's 5th grade leavers' prom.

"If there's any boy I'm taking to prom, it's him, no one else." she declared.

"I've never really been to any kind of party before," Raz stated. "It was honestly one of the best evenings of my life."

Of course it's comfortable. It's Psi-Wear™.

Superstar Psychonaut agents Sasha Nein and Milla Vodello agree - they even wear it on their adventures.

Psi-Wear™ is tailored with psitanium-treated fabrics, ranging from cotton to leather to ultrasuede. It's so stylish it will turn heads, so practical it can get through high-stakes missions - and so comfortable you'll want to bask in it after a job well done.

MEET OUR SHINING STAR

Bonita Soleil

Inner muse of Gloria Von Gouton, Bonita Soleil has commanded the stage for as long as Gloria has been walking and talking. In this Psilhouette-exclusive, we take a peak into the famed actress' personal interests and inspirations as she shares advice for aspiring performers and fans of the shining star alike.

Thank you for taking the time to meet with us, Miss Soleil. How are you today?

I'm feeling wonderful! Thank you for asking. Ever since that nosy little kid Razputin helped me to get my spark back, things have really been on the up and up for this glowing muse!

That is wonderful! What have you been up to lately?

You mean other than the constant traveling and show biz? Y'know, I've been meditating a lot lately. Really calms the nerves before a major production, and I love the smell of incense - just fabulous.

Regarding your love life, is there any special someone in the picture right now? Some fans are dying to know.

Oh, I always have some sort of affair going on. You know me. This current guy is a dream, but if I say his name I may get in trouble so that's all you'll get from me [laughs].

So tell us, who or what was your biggest inspiration as a young performer?

As cliché as it is, I have to say Marilyn Monroe. I was totally entranced watching her in those old Hollywood films. She could act, sing, dance, and she was just gorgeous on top of it all. How could a young Bonita not want to be like that?

Do you have any advice for those looking to get into show business?

Sometimes you're going to think you're the star of the show, the best in the room, and you might be.

But you also might stink. Really badly. I'm talking just awful. But that's ok! Take the good advice you get, and learn to separate it from the bad. Do what you can to improve, never listen to anyone who tells you to "just give it up already," and keep shining!

And how do you handle the critics?

Well, there was a time when the critique would get to me. I was so terrified to even get on stage because of the things that awful critic would say to me. I would wallow and wallow and- oh my poor eyeliner. She really went through it [laughs]!

Now I've learned to take it in stride, and it did take a bit of outside help for me to get to that point. When I focus on the fans and the positive feedback, the naysayers start to feel so small. I can barely hear them anymore!

Are there any upcoming performances of yours that our readers should know about?

Why, yes there is! We've been working hard on our latest production, The Phantom and the Sun. It'll hit theaters this Summer so keep an eye out for the announcements. And buy a ticket!

Thank you again for your time. We're all looking forward to seeing you take the stage again, Miss Soleil.

Always a pleasure, honey. Take care. +

How one family circus is transforming the fashion scene

The Aquato Family Circus was not on anyone's fashion radar just one year ago, but this humble family circus has recently undergone a drastic change in style- largely thanks to the efforts of the family matriarch, Donatella Aquato.

"I've always had an eye for fashion, but never the budget." She told Psilhouette, "But now that our new water acts are doing so well, I can afford to splurge on fabrics!"

The new Aquato Family Circus features just as many daring stunts as it does eye-catching fashion, with each show boasting new, exclusive designs that are sure to "wow".

And if the name "Aquato" sounds familiar to you, that's because this is the family of one of the newest Junior Psychonaut Agents- Razputin Aquato! Which is all the more reason to go see the show. Rumor has it that Raz still performs with his family from time to time. We even hear they might be adding Psychic tricks to their repertoire!

What do I see?
That's the question
I'm most afraid of.

One that asks me
What I'm really made of...

What do I see?
Much more than a reflection:
A romance
with sheer perfection...
I see me;

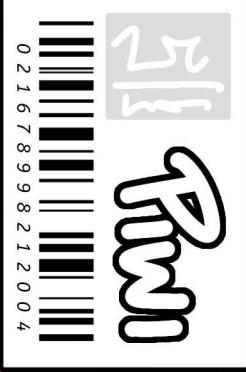

Actress,
Woman,

Star..

..and lover,

Sister, sweetheart, slave and muse...
I see me.
And I like what I see.
Virgin, temptress, dream of others
Yes, it's me!

HER LIFE
HER INSPIRATION

Despoina in a vintage Emilio Pucci pantsuit, 1955, after a successful show at Whelan's Cabaret, NO.

Despoina Aquate

Excerpt - Despoina speaks of her childhood with the same teasing candor as someone recalling a fatal night out. "Truly a miracle we all came out with our limbs and brains attached-", She laughed, effortlessly kicking her legs over our chair. "Though I guess I can't complain too much. Growing up with my mother made me who I am, both as a performer and as a woman. " (cont. on next page)

Emilio Pucci capsule, 1960. Des regrets not managing to find the matching boots

A modern look, inspired by the May issue of Vogue. "Good clothes are good clothes."

Despoina made her first appearance among the psychic and famous only a month ago, but her pull was immediate. Psilhoutte sits down with her to discuss vintage looks, new relationships, and forging your own identity.

"How should I know, I'm a DENTIST!"

THE STYLE AND SECRETS OF DR. LOBOTOMY

This time for our Villainous Vanity segment, we've set our sights on Dr. Calligosto Loboto, who's eccentric looks and secretive life has caught the third-eye of our editors!

A MAD GENIUS of STYLE!

Gothic, industrial and bright. What a style combo! We reached out to the self described madman himself about his style inspirations. He told us to come back with a warrant. Ah well, maybe next time!

Loboto's Secret CHILD!?

Rumours have been circulating that Loboto is secretly a father! An anonymous Psychonauts confirmed hearing him mention "leaving his kid at Whispering Rock" but who could it be? We're here to discuss a few possibilities.

1: Bobby Zilch. This young camper bears just enough of a resemblance to Loboto to rouse our suspicions...

2: Linda. A mutated Lungfish created by the Doctor! Could the "kid" Loboto mentioned really just be the gentle sea monster living in Lake Oblongata?

3: Unknown. This child sharing Loboto's cyan skintone was recently spotted near Whispering Rock. Could it be...?

Partners in Crime... AND LOVE...?

Scandalous! While we thought the villainous team-up between the gone-rogue Agent Morceu Oleander and Dr. Loboto (you can read more on that in last month's Villainous Vanity spotlight, as well as more about the rogue-agent's militaristic style!) was over after Oleander's defeat and subsequent reformation. Now it seems there might be more to their business partnership than meets the eye...
